The future of knife design.

Born out of a collaboration between Taylor's Eye Witness and award-winning design studio Industrial Facility, the IF4000 range, designed by Sam Hecht, reassesses the three key areas of material, action and form in the context of modern conditions and technology.

Apart from their stunning appearance, IF4000 knives are superior in use, combining Sheffield craftsmanship with innovative manufacturing techniques and sound ergonomic principles. The high-carbon stainless steel blade is a combination of carbon, chromium, molybdenum and vanadium paired with a cool-to-the touch mouldable ceramic handle material.

 Made in Sheffield.
